Leisurefest launch for OPUS[®] 2 Sleeper

OPUS[®] Campers will stage the national launch of its compact new 2 Sleeper at Melbourne Leisurefest at Sandown Racecourse next week.

The 2 Sleeper joins the dual-fold 4 Sleeper in the new OPUS[®] Mark II range, with its Tough Luxury combination of heavy duty off-road suspension and extra standard equipment.

Both models will be on the OPUS[®] Camper display on Stand 75, right next to Gate 4.

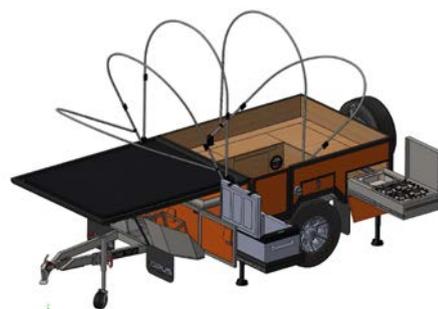

Lighter and more compact than its big brother, the 2 Sleeper has a large forward-folding double bed and a U-shaped lounge plus the instantly recognisable OPUS canvas top.

Weighing in at 300kg lighter and 30cm narrower than the 4 Sleeper, it is ideal for narrow tracks and towing with small and middle-weight sedans and SUVs.

The new OPUS[®] Mark II range is a major update of the well-loved OPUS Camper, with coil spring independent suspension, slide-out kitchen, sound system and many other upgrades.

OPUS[®] Camper national sales manager Scott Miller said the 2 Sleeper was a very appealing option for travelling couples who wanted to go camping in style and comfort.

“The 2 Sleeper and 4 Sleeper share all the Tough Luxury features that set OPUS[®] apart from other campers, but now in two distinct sizes to suit different needs,” he said.

OPUS[®] Camper's new 2 Sleeper makes its show debut at Melbourne Leisurefest next week at the official launch of the OPUS[®] Mark II range.

“Our first Mark II 4 Sleeper has gone to a young family, and our first 2 Sleeper is going to a couple whose children have grown up and left home.

“What all OPUS® models deliver – and always will – is a unique combination of style, space, comfort and convenience in a package that is unlike any other camper.

“The first OPUS® Mark II units are already on the way to their owners, and we will be taking orders at Sandown for delivery early in 2017.”
